

WIT
DIRECT CARS
JERUSALEM - HAIFA - JERUSALEM
Tel. 5555 - 5555 - 5555 - 5555

THE JERUSALEM POST

VOL. XXIX, No. 7721
PRICE: 50 PRUTA

For Your Child
ONEG
RELIGIOUS PUBLICATION

Marginal Column

By EREV LAQUER

NEXT month's elections to the French Presidency already have begun to overshadow all that is said and done on the political scene in Paris. Last week's parliamentary debate on E.D.C. and the great resistance shown with regard to the Bermuda conference, merely reflect the prevalent atmosphere of suspense and uncertainty—or rather the certainty that in a month from now, France will have a new President, and that the resignation of the Laniel Cabinet will probably be followed by a prolonged crisis.

M. VINCENT Auriol, it will be remembered, is France's 15th President, and he was one of the few to remain in office for the full seven years. The Presidency in the Third Republic had been somewhat ill-starred: Thiers, the first President, was elected by the National Assembly and had to resign; MacMahon, the second President, was elected by the Chamber of Deputies and resigned in 1900; Poincaré, the third President, had to resign as the result of a number of irregularities; Gaston Doumergue, the fourth, was elected by the Chamber of Deputies and resigned in 1920; Paul Doumer, the fifth, was elected by the Chamber of Deputies and resigned in 1924; Albert Lebrun, the sixth, was elected by the Chamber of Deputies and resigned in 1931; and finally, Vincent Auriol, the seventh, was elected by the Chamber of Deputies and resigned in 1947.

IN comparison with the fate of the French Presidency, the achievements of its predecessors, M. Vincent Auriol's magistrature has been distinguished and fairly uneventful. In accordance with tradition, he has been a strong President, but he has kept a very low profile, and his main function has been to preside over the sessions of the National Assembly. He has not been a strong President, but he has kept a very low profile, and his main function has been to preside over the sessions of the National Assembly.

THIS undoubtedly is the reason for the surprisingly large number of weighty candidates for this position in the next office. They include Messrs. Herriot, Quele, Delbos, Marie, Bidault, Laniel and several other ex-Ministers of Government. The result is completely unpredictable. The Communists, who in the past have been the main opposition to the Government, have declared their willingness this time to vote for the non-Communist candidates, and have opposed to the creation of a European army.

MORE important, at least from a short range view, would appear to be the character of the next President. The most important factor in the selection of the President is the character of the next President. The most important factor in the selection of the President is the character of the next President. The most important factor in the selection of the President is the character of the next President.

THESE are, or should be, some of the worries of the candidates for the post to be vacated. An annual salary of 10 million francs, which is about $1,000,000, is the main attraction of the office. The candidates are expected to be of the highest caliber, and to have a strong record in public life.

Jerusalem, November 21.

West's Kibya Motion Presented Unchanged

NEW YORK, Saturday (Reuter).—A resolution expressing the "strongest censure" of Israel for her raid on Kibya, formally was presented to the Security Council on Friday by Britain, France and the U.S.

The Council adjourned without voting on the resolution. Tuesday without acting on the resolution. The resolution, which was presented by the United States, simply gives effect to the belief that the Security Council must maintain the General Armistice Agreement between Israel and Jordan.

The resolution asks the Council to find that the raid was "retaliatory action by the armed forces of Israel." It would express "the strongest censure on the action, which is completely unjustified and in violation of the principles of international law and of the General Armistice Agreement between Israel and Jordan."

Mr. Wadsworth told the Council that the raid was "retaliatory action by the armed forces of Israel." It would express "the strongest censure on the action, which is completely unjustified and in violation of the principles of international law and of the General Armistice Agreement between Israel and Jordan."

The U.S. delegate stated that the proposed resolution would have the Council find that the Kibya action was "in violation of the principles of international law and of the General Armistice Agreement between Israel and Jordan."

Mr. Wadsworth added, "The Security Council must recognize that the Kibya incident is one among many things which are prejudicial to the establishment of peace in the Middle East. He said that in one part of the resolution the sponsors took note of the fact that violence was the common result of the failure to maintain the security of the demarcation line. We believe the Governments of the United States and the United Kingdom should take the strongest measures consistent with law and order to see that the demarcation line remains inviolate."

The American delegate said that the resolution emphasized the obligation of the United States and the United Kingdom to maintain the security of the demarcation line. He said that the resolution was "a strong statement of the United States and the United Kingdom's support for the General Armistice Agreement between Israel and Jordan."

Jerusalem, November 21.

Egypt Requests Suspension Of Sudan Election

KHARTOUM, Saturday (Reuter).—The Sudan Electoral Commission today discussed yesterday's request by Egypt to stop all election proceedings in the eastern province of Nubia and the southern province of Equatoria, and remove all British administrators before the elections were continued.

The Commission would not divulge the nature of its reply to Egypt, but it was learned unofficially that they would probably reject the request. Egypt had alleged "British interference" and said that Lieutenant-Colonel Patrick de Robeck, an official in Equatoria, had acted improperly in advising a pro-Egyptian party candidate, Daryo, to withdraw.

The Umma Party (largest Sudanese party), which stands for independence, said today: "The suggestions are unacceptable. The elections cannot be interrupted. Egypt should trust the Commission as we do."

The National Unionists support Egypt's request. The elections in the two disputed provinces are in full swing and are due to end next week.

Austria Ready To Resume Claims Talks

VIENNA, Saturday (Reuter).—Austria is ready to resume negotiations on restitution of Jewish property after breaking off talks with the Committee for Jewish Affairs on Austria on July 18, a Government official said today.

The Committee, which represents 22 Jewish international organizations, is meeting in Paris. The official stated that the Government had told the Committee that it was ready to resume negotiations, although Austria had limited the Government in accepting claims and that it was up to the Committee whether the talks could be continued on an acceptance basis.

Discussions broke down over the Jewish demand that in respect of Jewish property in Austria for which there is no Jewish claimant, the Government should pay to Jewish organizations in Austria.

Jerusalem, November 21.

Plane Strays 2,100 KPH

LOS ANGELES, Saturday (Reuter).—A Douglas Skyrocket airplane, set speed record by flying at 2,100 miles an hour, (more than 2,100 k.p.h.) yesterday, it was announced here today.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, in announcing that this speed is the fastest ever, said that the plane was piloted by research pilot Scott Crossfield. The Skyrocket is a research plane designed to obtain data on high speed flying. It has short, swept-back wings and a fine, pointed nose. It is powered by a jet engine and supplementary rocket motor.

Some details are still on the secret list. The record of 2,100 miles an hour was set up in a Skyrocket plane in August, 1951.

Gouzenko Told All He Knows—Pearson

OTTAWA, Saturday (UP).—The Minister of External Affairs, Mr. Lester B. Pearson, said today that "everything" former Russian cipher clerk Igor Gouzenko has told Canadian authorities since he fled from the Russian Embassy here eight years ago "has been made available to U.S. authorities."

Pearson said that the Canadian Government always dispatches to the U.S. as quickly as possible "any scrap" of information that might be of use to that nation. This was "not quite the same" as having an American investigator come into Canada, he added.

In addition to the Gouzenko matter, there is an investigation under way by the Government in Ottawa concerning FBI disclosures that a "high Canadian Government source" had warned Mr. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, of the plan to promote the late Harry Dexter White to his final post with the International Monetary Fund.

Canada informally has protested against the Administration's action in making public a hitherto secret matter, but better informed sources, it was disclosed yesterday.

Jerusalem, November 21.

Italy Seen Ready For Five-Power Talks on Trieste

ROME, Saturday (Reuter).—Premier Giuseppe Pella today told the Italian Chamber of Deputies that Italy was ready to accept the Italian reply to the invitation to a five-power conference on Trieste.

It was believed to be a conditional acceptance. Though no official details were available immediately, it was assumed that the Italian conditions for a conference on Trieste were those outlined to Parliament by Mr. Pella on Wednesday.

1. That the conference should discuss the future of the whole Trieste territory, including the zone occupied by Yugoslavia.

2. That the Italian Government still consider that the best solution would be a plebiscite allowing the people of the territory to choose between Italy and Yugoslavia.

3. That the Anglo-American stand of October 8 to the "b-d Zone" of Trieste to Italy should "remain firm and irrevocable."

4. That the conference should be preceded by a meeting in order to avoid the risks that inevitably would derive from its failure.

The Foreign Minister declined to comment on reports that Italy had agreed to the five-power conference. A spokesman said that nothing could be added to an earlier official communiqué from the Foreign Ministry, which stated that the meetings with the Western Ambassadors "were part of the negotiations presently under way on the question of Trieste, and gave occasion to the Italian Premier to indicate the positive and constructive stand of Italy regarding the Allied proposals of November 13 to participate in a five-cornered conference finally to settle the Trieste problem."

3 Balkan Pact States Agree on Defence Matters

BEIGRADE, Saturday (Reuter).—Agreement on joint defence matters was reached at General Staff talks here yesterday in Belgrade, Greece and Turkey, a communiqué announced yesterday.

An announcement added that the talks between the representatives of the three Balkan states were "conducted in a spirit of friendship and full understanding." The results achieved "are a new contribution to the consolidation of peace in this part of Europe."

Jerusalem, November 21.

Britain Against French Conditions for E.D.C.

LONDON, Saturday (UP).—The Foreign Office said today that Britain, by a formal treaty, will tie itself to the European Defence Community. But at the forthcoming Bermuda Conference Britain will resist French efforts to pledge indefinite maintenance of British troops in Europe.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who is in the National Assembly yesterday, made a ringing demand for French approval of the European Army pact, said that at Bermuda he will press for "positive assurances" from both Britain and the United States. The French want U.S. and British troops to remain in Europe as a guarantee that a rearmament West Germany will not attempt to secede from the E.D.C. and make its own, or force an independent, national army.

A Foreign Office spokesman confirmed M. Bidault's announcement that Britain has agreed to a treaty of "close association with the E.D.C. without joining it." He said, however, that Britain cannot commit herself to maintain troops on the Continent at any specified level for an indefinite period.

Not Foreseeable

Government spokesmen emphasized that Britain, who maintains large forces in Europe at present, "has no intention of withdrawing them in the foreseeable future."

The U.S. also has reassured member nations of the E.D.C. that it has no present intention to reduce sharply or withdraw its forces from the continent.

It is the desire of the British Government, the Foreign Office spokesman said, "to maintain the closest possible association with the projected European Defence Community." A Foreign Office statement said that the formal agreement arises from the declared policy of the British Government of association with the E.D.C., short of joining it.

Negotiations looking to the formal treaty were said to have reached the final stage and are expected to be concluded shortly.

POLISH NOTE

LONDON, Saturday (Reuter).—Poland has told the six West European nations that the European Army Scheme would not safeguard Europe from German military domination, the Polish Embassy here announced last night.

In notes handed over in Warsaw on Thursday to the French, Belgian, Norwegian, Dutch and Danish envoys and to the Luxembourg Government, Poland appealed to all neighboring Germany not to falter in their efforts to prevent a re-birth of German imperialism and militarism.

Jerusalem, November 21.

Bidault Confined To Bed After Collapse

PARIS, Saturday.—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault is under close medical supervision after virtually collapsing yesterday at the climax of the Chamber's "great debate" on European policy.

M. Bidault's physician issued a bulletin last night saying that the Foreign Minister is confined to bed "in the wake of a crisis characterized by a tendency towards fainting, brought on by intense day and night overwork."

While the Foreign Minister is recuperating, anxious Deputies sounded out opinion in their home constituencies on the European Defence Community treaty vote which was postponed last night until Tuesday morning.

Before a fit of weakness forced him to break off his speech yesterday, M. Bidault admitted that "reports of the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Europe" naturally had caused apprehension. He added that France is trying to obtain precise guarantees that the U.S. and British forces would remain in Europe after the E.D.C. treaty is ratified.

Talks Under Way

Negotiations to this effect are progressing "favorably," he divulged, adding: "This is a matter we shall talk about at Bermuda."

M. Bidault argued that there is no alternative to the E.D.C. if Germany is to be brought into the Western defence system on acceptable terms. He regretted the absence of British as a member of this community, but added: "The Commonwealth lives on empiricism, while the French Union is based on logic. This is not the time to discuss the merits of either system. But it is a fact that England does not reason and react as we do. The difference is no doubt due to the geographical detail of 22 kilometers called the English Channel."

We know that England dislikes engagement and prefers to keep them rather than to sign them. Turning to possible alternatives to a European Army, M. Bidault said that there are two, and both are unacceptable. One is a neutral Germany, which would leave the Rhine frontier unprotected, and the other is Germany's direct entry into the North Atlantic pact. He recalled that the E.D.C. limit Germany's total forces, while there would be no restrictions if she were admitted directly to NATO.

(UP, Reuter)

Jerusalem, November 21.

Jerusalem, November 21.

TEN TIMES "HAGGRUSH" FOR LUCK
"HAG" IN HEBREW CHARACTERS SPELLS 10 AND THE MINIMUM NUMBER (IN HEBREW "MINYAN") IS TEN, MAKING IN HAGGRUSH A TOTAL OF 11,100
WANTED FROM A THOUSAND PEOPLE TODAY
L.1800

Hadassah

WELCOME YOU TO ISRAEL

TEL AVIV 4991

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

HAIFA 4376

PAGE TWO

Pitdown Skull Exposed as Fraud

By GEORGE LICHTHEIM

Jerusalem Post Correspondent

LONDON, Saturday. Today's issue of the British Museum's "Natural History" contains the startling announcement that the celebrated Pitdown skull, found in Sussex in 1912 and allegedly representing the remains of a primitive man, has been shown to be a forgery.

Thus collapses a whole edifice of anthropological speculation built upon the alleged discovery made by Charles Dawson, a retired solicitor who died highly regarded by scientists in 1918, but who is now suspected of having perpetrated an elaborate fraud in order to gain notoriety.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

The matter is given great prominence here and will probably stimulate extensive public discussion.

In 1912 and 1913, he guided British and French scholars to spots in the Sussex Downs where various fossils were discovered in a gravel pit. These included a jawbone and a tooth, now shown to be those of a modern ape, but which scholars then mistook for parts of a primitive human skull.

They were misled by the skull, the discovery of a Pitdown of a human cranium which is still considered genuine and about 50,000 years old.

The so-called Pitdown man presented a considerable puzzle, since the jawbone did not match the cranium, a fact now easily explained, but which then gave rise to various speculations about this curious aberration from the general trend of human evolution as reconstructed from other finds throughout the world.

Today's announcement therefore clarifies the evolutionary problem by removing a misleading puzzle. The shock to the scientific world is nevertheless great, since the British Museum authorities have been successfully misled for nearly 40 years.

Debates began to arise in 1909, when fluorine tests were applied to the skull, but the definite discovery that some parts are those of a modern ape — probably a chimpanzee — was made recently.

Governor Fine Here For Wood Planting

Mr. John Fine (Republican)

Governor of Pennsylvania

is here today in the dedication of the Pennsylvania American Friends Service Committee project, at Easton in the Judean Hills.

Also present will be Senator Andrew J. Borden of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Mr. William Sytk of Philadelphia, Pa.

The party arrived at Tel Aviv yesterday morning.

Israel's plantings will be held in the John S. Fine Forest, near the Forest of the Foreign Minister at Tel Aviv.

Yesterday, the Governor was guest at a reception in the home of the U.S. Charge d'Affaires, Mr. Francis H. Russell, and dinner at the home of the Foreign Minister at Tel Aviv.

Governor Fine is due to leave on Thursday after a tour of the Negev, Galilee and Jerusalem. On Tuesday afternoon, he is to speak at the American Friends Service Committee meeting in Tel Aviv on "Contemporary American Politics." He was elected to his post in November, 1956. Gov. Fine has played an important role in the 1952 Republican national convention in Chicago.

Acting Attorney General C. Gluckman intervened in the proceedings to request that no further action be taken against the immediate cessation of work because of its importance to Jerusalem.

The Court denied the petition declaring that the matter is the concern of the District Court.

(Him)

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

Y.M.C.A. Christian Fellowship

U.N. Seeks Hebrew Interpreter in Holland

Jerusalem Post Correspondent

AMSTERDAM (Ais Mail). — The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

The U.N. has informed Dutch universities that a $5,000 a year grant is open for a Dutch national as Hebrew interpreter in "Palestine."

In addition to Hebrew, the candidate must know English and French, and be a Christian.

They point out that in such a responsible position they must employ a person who is neutral in the Israel-Arab conflict.

Today's Post Bag

THE WEATHER

	A	B	C	D
Mr. Canaan	20	20	19	18
Theresa	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18
Mr. Port	20	20	19	18

RAINFALL

	1953	1952	1951	1950
Jerusalem	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm
Haifa	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm
Tel Aviv	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm
Beersheva	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm
Jericho	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm	150 mm

Forecast: Partly cloudy
 Rainfall: 150 mm
 Humidity: 60-70%
 Wind: 10-15 mph
 Temp: 60-70°F

THE JERUSALEM MUNICIPALITY
 The Water Department has warned the public that within a week it will cut off services to buildings where leaking pipes and fixtures allow water to flow into the streets.

TEL AVIV SHOPKEEPERS
 have been invited to compete for the best window display over the Hanukkah period by the Merchants' Association.

Nine Killed In Alexandria Storm

Neighboring countries also have been hit by the sudden cold spell in Alexandria, nine persons were killed and 20 injured during heavy storm on Friday, NEABS reported. The port was closed to navigation, and traffic through the Suez Canal was slowed down.

An icy 110 k.p.h. gale paralyzed traffic in lower Egypt, Reuters reported.

The first November snow in Syrian history blocked all major roads out of Damascus on Thursday night.

In the Lebanese province of Beka, helicopters searched for 18 Bedouins after they had failed to return to their village with their flocks.

According to the United Press, rescue parties on Friday searched for 18 men and women who vanished after seeking shelter in a cave from a sudden snowstorm. They disappeared on Thursday in the Hama region after the storm, the entrance to the cave was buried in drifts, and rescuers could find no trace of the men.

On the southern Lebanese coast, a Lebanese sailor drowned when his boat capsized. The rest of the crew reached the shore safely.

NEW YORK 'MAZE' NEW WEATHER PHENOMENON

NEW YORK, Saturday (UP).—Millions of coughing, sneezing New Yorkers watched the sun poke weakly through a cloud of smoke and chemical fumes today as they hurried themselves to at least one more day of a new-fangled nightmare called "smaze." The condition, a combination of smog, low flying smoke and haze, is different from the more familiar "smog."

Families were improving dust-masks to protect their throats and nasal passages from the noxious fumes. Many cases of nausea were reported, and eye-smarting was common.

LeGuardia and Idlewild airports cancelled all flights last night, when visibility dropped to zero. A Swedish freighter and a tug-towed barge were involved in a minor collision yesterday in the fog-shrouded Delaware River, near Philadelphia.

Lodge Guarded Against Puerto Ricans

NEW YORK, Saturday (Reuters).—An armed police guard posted at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel suite of Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, is to protect him from Puerto Rican nationalists, an informed source said on Thursday.

The source, who asked that his name not be used, said that Mr. Lodge had requested the 24-hour guard about 10 days ago.

MALAN EXPECTED TO RETIRE SOON

JOHANNESBURG, Saturday (Reuters).—South African political circles are speculating on the possibility that Prime Minister Dr. Daniel Malan shortly will retire from active politics. Following an announcement that he has relinquished leadership of the Nationalist Party in the Cape Province.

Exports Continue Upward Trend

Jewish Agency's New Settlement Budget May Be Nearly Doubled

By The Jerusalem Post Economic Correspondent

TEL AVIV, Saturday. The upward trend of exports, indicated by figures for the first half of 1953, continued in the third quarter, it is learned from Treasury sources. Exports, measured in free dollars and sterling increased by 20% against the same period last year, while net current revenue from exports under trade agreements jumped by 150%. Notable items among this year's exports were tires, Kaiser Fraser cars, cement and steel.

Foreign currency revenue from services and "invisible" (tourists, trade commissions and similar items) is running at a level 5% higher than that of a year ago. However, it may be doubted whether this increase represents a real gain for the economy, or mainly a transfer to legal channels of revenue which formerly had fed the black market.

Prospects for the next tourist season are favorable, owing to the present rate of exchange (17:100-11) and the expansion of first class hotel accommodation. But there are fears that political and psychological deterrent to the faint hearted tourist.

Little Damage In Capital from Rain

Jerusalem Post Bureau

The savage downpour in the Jerusalem hills at the week end caused little damage, although the Fire Brigade, police and municipal employees were obliged to help out in many instances. The rain caused some damage to the city's water pipes, building material and agricultural implements, by higher wage rates for local labor, and by the greater intensity of irrigation in new farms which are to grow industrial crops, sugar beet, ground nuts etc.

Last year, irrigation accounted for one half of the settlement budget, while housing accounted for 25%.

Capital Told to Abide By Building Laws

Jerusalem Post Bureau

The Minister of Interior, Mr. Israel Rokach, on Friday exhorted the Jerusalem Municipality to abide by the existing Town Planning and Building laws, and especially to uphold the zoning regulations. He was meeting with representatives of the Municipality who are now engaged in the preparation of a new Town Planning Scheme which is to supersede the existing one of 1934.

The Municipality suggested the appointment of a public body to advise and direct the experts engaged in working out the details of the plan. The Minister stated that it was too early to discuss the appointment of such a body, as only preliminary work, mainly survey, is being undertaken at the moment.

He insisted, however, that no deviation from the 1934 plan should be allowed, and all cases of deviation should be passed to the District Commission for approval.

The Municipality was represented by Messrs. Amdur, Rubin, Maron, Berger and Gil. Present at the meeting were the Director of the Ministry, Mr. A. Moyal, the District Representative, Mr. A. Biran, and the District Town Planning Advisor, Mr. Y. Shviv.

Swedish Footballers Smash T.A. Hapoel

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — A.K., the visiting Swedish soccer team, thrashed Tel Aviv Hapoel this afternoon 6:0 in a brilliant game played at 4,000 spectators at the Jaffa Stadium. The half-time score was 2:0. The Swedish team, led by Budapest, Charge d'Affaires, M. Mailing, kicked off.

The visitors displayed football at its best. Their game was aggressive throughout with the ball passed with uncommon precision and speed. The young Swedish outside right, Kurt Homrin, particularly distinguished himself. Last week he played with the Swedish national team against Hungary in Budapest.

The local team lacked coordination, particularly in its forward lines, although the defense was good.

The pitch was muddy and there was intermittent rain. Nevertheless, the A.K. team acquitted itself to the conditions within a few minutes.

The visitors are to play Tel Aviv Maccabi next Tuesday in the Ramat Gan stadium at 3 p.m.

Grant to Jerusalem Converted into Loan

Jerusalem Post Bureau

The sum of IL300,000, which was given to the Jerusalem Municipality last March to pay teachers' salaries and which was deducted from the current grant-in-aid of IL300,000, will now be converted into a 10-year loan.

The Municipality has received IL150,000 from the grant-in-aid in this financial year, and no more is expected since the IL150,000 was deducted from this year's grant. Now, however, with the conversion of the sum of IL150,000 into a 10-year loan, the Municipality will be able to draw an additional IL150,000 from the balance of the grant-in-aid.

This may forestall the general strike of Municipal workers who have not been paid their October salaries. The Municipality owes the Treasury IL300,000 on account of income tax which had been deducted from the employees' salaries.

Rebuvet Officials To Be Dismissed

REHOBOT, Saturday. — The local Municipal Council at its meeting on Thursday night resolved to dismiss Mr. A. Dvorkin, an engineer in the Technical Department, for "negligence on his authority."

The Council also heard a statement on the alleged illegal activities of Yip Hui, a clerk in the Water Department.

These activities were the subject of investigations by an official of the State Attorney's Office who recently spent a week here. It is alleged that Yip had collected payments from local residents for water pipes and repairs, but had not transferred the money to the Municipal Treasurer.

A TALK on Social Services is to be broadcast by Mr. Y. Yaphet, Deputy Director-General of the Ministry of Social Welfare, at 7.30 this evening.

Nature's Ambrosia

Honey—one of the "delicacies" sorely missed during the rationing years—is back on the market. Tasty and perfumed honey, which is Nature's pure sugar, is again available.

The two main characteristics of honey are its delicate taste and its medicinal properties as recommended by doctors and scientists all through the ages. Honey at its best is again available in all shops. Eat natural honey—it is tasty, nutritious and healthy.

A TALK on Social Services

Jerusalem Post Bureau

The funeral of Mrs. MIRIAM SHER (Shereshevsky) will take place today, Sunday, November 22, 1953, at 11 noon, from the Rambam Government Hospital, Bat Galim, Haifa.

A bus will leave from the Military Filling Station, Rehov Hahalutz, Haifa, at 11.30 a.m.

We regret to announce the death in Jerusalem

on November 20, 1953, of my beloved husband, our dear father, KURT BUJAKOWSKY

A Memorial Mass will be held tomorrow, Monday, Nov. 23, at the Latin Parish, Salestin St., Haifa, at 9.30 a.m. Attendance will be appreciated.

The mother, wife, children and other relatives of Cav. Uff. Lodovico Casati the late General Representative of Adelsheim S.P.A. kindly ask all who knew and respected him, to honour his memory on the 30th day after his untimely passing.

Israel-Arab Talks Going On—Hakim

Jerusalem Post Bureau

NAZARETH, Saturday. — "It is true that a solution of the Palestine problem is in progress, and that of the Arab refugees in particular, is under thorough consideration, and discussions are going on between Israel and Arab personalities and foreign sources," the Greek Catholic Archbishop, George Hakim, told the Press here today.

Commenting on the "proposed Arab Galilee canton in Israel," hinted at by Mr. Nizar Hawari the Israeli lawyer, on Wednesday, the Archbishop thought that this might be "slightly exaggerated."

(Mr. Hawari's report was quoted officially last week.)

However, some sort of autonomy for the would-be repatriated refugees in a part of Israel was among the suggestions made by the foreign sources concerned with the Palestine problem, he said.

Like Mr. Hawari, he refused to identify their sources.

The Archbishop thought that 500,000 refugees would be prepared to forgo repatriation and agree to be settled in Arab states, if a serious move to pay individual compensation for their abandoned property were made by Israel. Only then would the leaders of the Arab states who have learned from the fate of their predecessors who had tried to adopt a non-acceptable solution of the refugee problem) dare to introduce a change in their foreign policy and be ready to negotiate with Israel, he said.

Gov't Imported Tiles To Save Expense

Jerusalem Post Bureau

The Ministry of Labour imported 800,000 Czech porcelain tiles for the popular housing scheme and for hospital construction, after deciding that local products did not suit Ministry requirements, a spokesman stated in Jerusalem on Friday. He added that the Ministry needed three million such tiles.

The spokesman admitted that the building of Government hospitals had stopped due to budgetary difficulties. The Ministry would be willing to pay a higher price for local products, the spokesman added. The shares are to be sold to the settlements after their consolidation.

The total settlement budget for one agricultural unit at present is calculated at about IL12,000, compared with IL8,600 last year. The increase was caused by the new rate of exchange for imported materials (mainly water pipes, building material and agricultural implements), by higher wage rates for local labor, and by the greater intensity of irrigation in new farms which are to grow industrial crops, sugar beet, ground nuts etc.

Last year, irrigation accounted for one half of the settlement budget, while housing accounted for 25%.

Capital Told to Abide By Building Laws

Jerusalem Post Bureau

The Minister of Interior, Mr. Israel Rokach, on Friday exhorted the Jerusalem Municipality to abide by the existing Town Planning and Building laws, and especially to uphold the zoning regulations. He was meeting with representatives of the Municipality who are now engaged in the preparation of a new Town Planning Scheme which is to supersede the existing one of 1934.

The Municipality suggested the appointment of a public body to advise and direct the experts engaged in working out the details of the plan. The Minister stated that it was too early to discuss the appointment of such a body, as only preliminary work, mainly survey, is being undertaken at the moment.

He insisted, however, that no deviation from the 1934 plan should be allowed, and all cases of deviation should be passed to the District Commission for approval.

The Municipality was represented by Messrs. Amdur, Rubin, Maron, Berger and Gil. Present at the meeting were the Director of the Ministry, Mr. A. Moyal, the District Representative, Mr. A. Biran, and the District Town Planning Advisor, Mr. Y. Shviv.

General Zionists Hit Haifa's Municipality

Jerusalem Post Bureau

HAIFA, Saturday. — Strong criticism of the town's management was voiced at the General Zionist meeting here this morning. Mr. E. Ben Gurion, leader of the General Zionist opposition in the Town Council, said that the Municipality is neglecting basic problems of the town, such as water supply, drainage, sewage disposal, and the like. He stated that the Municipality is going in for secondary projects to impress the public.

Actually, the town is managed by one boss, it appeared efficient from without, but there is a danger to citizens' rights. Economically, the town is being led towards a financial abyss.

Mr. E. Ben Gurion, town councillor, said that the Municipality's decision to approach I.L.S. for a public showings of a film on Hitler's life, "Till five past 12," was a mistake and that the town should be showing a film on the life of the Jewish people.

Tourists! Ask for Your Free Copy of LATAVAR

ISRAEL TOURIST PORTFOLIO

at all Government Tourist Information Offices, Tourist Hotels, Institutions, etc.

IGSP SAVES YOUR MONEY!

FUR COATS

LATEST MODELS • LARGE SELECTION

ROSEN • TEL AVIV

GOOD NEWS FOR MOTHER AND CHILD! BEBE SHOEMAN'S SOAP

especially for infants and children.

with the addition of Naxochlorophane

The amazing modern germicide once again on the market.

Made by "ADE" Ltd., Ramat Gan.

KUPAT AM BANK

ALL Banking Transactions a Favorable Terms

PEOPLE'S BANK

Israel-Arab Talks Going On—Hakim

Jerusalem Post Bureau

NAZARETH, Saturday. — "It is true that a solution of the Palestine problem is in progress, and that of the Arab refugees in particular, is under thorough consideration, and discussions are going on between Israel and Arab personalities and foreign sources," the Greek Catholic Archbishop, George Hakim, told the Press here today.

Commenting on the "proposed Arab Galilee canton in Israel," hinted at by Mr. Nizar Hawari the Israeli lawyer, on Wednesday, the Archbishop thought that this might be "slightly exaggerated."

(Mr. Hawari's report was quoted officially last week.)

However, some sort of autonomy for the would-be repatriated refugees in a part of Israel was among the suggestions made by the foreign sources concerned with the Palestine problem, he said.

Like Mr. Hawari, he refused to identify their sources.

The Archbishop thought that 500,000 refugees would be prepared to forgo repatriation and agree to be settled in Arab states, if a serious move to pay individual compensation for their abandoned property were made by Israel. Only then would the leaders of the Arab states who have learned from the fate of their predecessors who had tried to adopt a non-acceptable solution of the refugee problem) dare to introduce a change in their foreign policy and be ready to negotiate with Israel, he said.

Two Main Factors

The Arab refugees outside Israel, and the Arab minority within, were the two main factors which could make Middle East peace a near or remote possibility. He therefore did not believe in a quick peace as long as the refugees remain unsettled in the Arab states, and the Arab minority here is "treated unjustly."

The Arab minority saw a solution to its problems in the establishment of an Israel Arab party unconnected with any existing political party in this country. The Archbishop thought that Mr. Ben Gurion's retirement would bring improvement, and lead the Government to reconsider its policy towards the Arab minority. He predicted that the Arab world in general.

On Nazareth, he stated that only free elections for a new council would end the city's crisis. He predicted that the Communists would poll no more than 10% to 15% of the votes if all anti-Communist bodies were to establish a united front.

Isaac Stern Two Recitals in Tel Aviv only

ALEXANDER ZAKIN at the Piano

Saturday, Nov. 28, Obel Shem Hall, at 8.30 p.m.

Works by: Haydn, Beethoven, Brahms, Prokofiev, De Falla, Paganini.

Sunday, Dec. 5, Obel Shem Hall, at 8.30 p.m.

Works by: Handel, Bach, Cesar Franck, Bartok-Szekely, Saint-Saens.

Tickets at the I.P.O. Office, 56 Allenby Rd. (11-0; 4-0).

Subscription 2

TEL AVIV: Obel Shem Hall, at 8.30 p.m. TONIGHT — Series "2" TOMORROW — Series "3"

HAIFA: Arnon Theatre, at 9 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 25 — Series "1" Thursday, Nov. 26 — Series "2"

TOURISTS! Ask for Your Free Copy of LATAVAR

ISRAEL TOURIST PORTFOLIO

at all Government Tourist Information Offices, Tourist Hotels, Institutions, etc.

IGSP SAVES YOUR MONEY!

FUR COATS

LATEST MODELS • LARGE SELECTION

ROSEN • TEL AVIV

GOOD NEWS FOR MOTHER AND CHILD! BEBE SHOEMAN'S SOAP

especially for infants and children.

with the addition of Naxochlorophane

The amazing modern germicide once again on the market.

Made by "ADE" Ltd., Ramat Gan.

KIBYA

(Continued from Page 1)

It is reasonable that the Council should now ask Jordan to continue and strengthen preventive measures. Lastly, the Council would like the General Bannike's authority and give him as further help as he requires. The British delegate said that the proposal in the resolution that General Bannike should report back in three months seemed particularly important.

Sir Gladwyn added: "My Government hopes that contact between the authorities on either side can continue and become more frequent on questions arising out of the Armistice, but it seems that there is a great deal to be said for the view expressed the other day by the representative of Jordan that the most suitable place for such talks would be Jerusalem."

The British delegate's espousal of the Jordan view was the first rejection by a major power of Israel's call for immediate Israel-Jordan talks at the U.N. on border problems.

French delegate and President of the Council, Henri Foppenot, declared complete agreement with the U.S. and British statements. He also called for "mutual respect" for the Armistice Agreements and said that the Council would be well advised to refer to the two parties their obligations to respect the agreements and to cooperate fully with the Chief of Staff.

M. Hoppenot added that after Gen. Bannike submits the report called for in the resolution, the Council would be able to take a "long-range" view of matters.

LOCUST THREAT MUCH GRAVER

LONDON, Saturday (Reuters). — A serious deterioration in the desert locust situation during the past month was announced here today. The Colonial Office said that it is now grave in Southern Rhodesia and Somalia. There are many swarms in Asia Minor and some have moved into the deserts in Jordan, Syria and Iraq, threatening Egypt and Israel.

Locusts had also invaded Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia.

PAIR CONDEMNED FOR MURDER OF BOY

JEFFERSON CITY, Missouri, Saturday (UP). — Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady yesterday were placed in the death row cells of the Missouri State penitentiary, where they will be executed in the gas chamber on December 18 for the kidnap-murder of six-year-old Bobby Greenleaf.

There will be no appeal.

ONLY 10 HOURS from TEL AVIV to FRANKFURT

Consult your local Travel Agent or R.O.A.C.

TEL AVIV: 4 Rehov Hama, Tel. 67947-4.

JERUSALEM: King David Hotel Annex, Tel. 581.

HAIFA: 56 Hama Road, Tel. 638.

Rehov Hama Chambers, 56 Hama Road, Tel. 638.

FLY > B.O.A.C.

British Overseas Airways Corp.

U.S.A. and CANADA NEXT DIRECT SAILING

Payable in Israel Currency

January 13, 1954

Reservations accepted.

Arrangement of all Formalities through

Orient Shipping Agency Ltd.

4 Rehov Gershon, Jerusalem. Tel. 3004.

PELTOUTS INSURANCE

THE PIONEERS OF INSURANCE IN THIS COUNTRY

"ESHED"—To the Travelling Public

To Residents of Beersheva and Surroundings

On Saturday and Holiday Nights a bus will leave Beersheva for Tel Aviv at sunset, and from Tel Aviv to Beersheva at 8 p.m. Further details at the Bus Station in Beersheva and at all Eshed Information Offices.

To Residents of Tel Aviv and Surroundings

Buses from Tel Aviv will leave for Tel Aviv at 6.45 a.m. through Kiryat Anan, Yagur (Kfar Haiman); at 7 a.m. from Rehov (from the station marked "Tel Aviv"); at 7.15 a.m. from Tel Hadya (from the station marked "Tel Aviv"); through Haifa to Tel Aviv; at 11.15 a.m. in Tel Aviv's direction through Wadi Nils.

EGGED (ESHED) Public Relations Department

AMERICAN EXPORT LINES Inc., New York

Enjoy your voyage on the World-wide well known Passenger Liners

S.S. "INDEPENDENCE" S.S. "CONSTITUTION"

Next Sailings	From	To	Call	Call	Call
INDEPENDENCE	Dec. 10	Nov. 20	Nov. 20	Dec. 10	Dec. 10
INDEPENDENCE	Dec. 10	Dec. 10	Dec. 10	Dec. 10	Dec. 10
CONSTITUTION	Dec. 10	Dec. 10	Dec. 10	Dec. 10	Dec. 10

For reservations and further information consult your Travel Agent or

General Agent in Israel

AARON ROSENFELD

Head Office: 1, Haifa • 2, Palmir's Gate

Branch Office: 1, Tel Aviv • 2, Rehov Hama

Branch Office: 1, Jerusalem • 2, King David Hotel, Northern Annex

P.O.B. 74, Tel. 621/5

P.O.B. 74, Tel. 621/5

P.O.B. 74, Tel. 621/5

